FutureMakers Coalition

2021 Partnership Health Report

FutureMakers Coalition is a collective impact initiative working to help Southwest Floridians earn the high-quality credentials needed to enter the workforce. FutureMakers is not an organization, but a network built around relationships, so it is important to revisit the health of our partnerships. Here's what we found:

For the past year, we have been sending out monthly newsletters to almost all of our partners. We started sending out these newsletters because of suggestions we received from our last Partnership Health Project. Our most successful newsletter was our most recent edition, sent out in May of 2021: 172 people opened it and 57 people clicked on links in the newsletter. Over the past year, the average number of opens has been 169 and clicks has been 32.

There are varying levels of involvement possible with FutureMakers Coalition. Some people sign up because of their interest in the mission, and others do because of their desire to get further involved in the community. We currently have 140 partner organizations, 819 FutureMakers, and 251 of them are active members, which we define as being a member or leader of one of our 22 teams.
